

JAPS DEFEATED

The Russian Forces Pierce the Japanese Centre

JAPS FALL BACK

Russians have over Two Hundred Thousand men engaged in the Great Struggle.

RUSSIANS PIERCE JAP CENTRE.

Mukden, October 17th.—The Russian forces at 11 o'clock this forenoon penetrated the Japanese centre and it is reported captured 11 to 13 guns and 150 prisoners east of the railway. At another point during the day the Russian regiment took twenty-four more. The Russian operations to-day have been quite successful. The Japanese after a terrific stubborn resistance were compelled to retire along the whole line losing heavily. In one trench not very large there were counted six hundred corpses of Japanese. In spite of these losses the Japs were undaunted.

TENTH DAY OF BATTLE.

They have brought up siege guns and have left no stone unturned to retain the mastery of the situation. Every step the Russians have pushed forward to-day has been in the face of a stubborn resistance that has cost the Russians dear. The Japanese seem to be willing to fight until they are annihilated. Tomorrow will be the tenth day of the battle.

Tokio, October 18.—The following report dealing with yesterday's events reached Tokio to-day: "A small body of the enemy at Kakuanichi retired before our pursuit. Part of it halted at Rum pass and part at Kaotai pass, our pursuing column occupied Quanchi. The enemy's brigade strong, is now assembling in a village a thousand meters to the north-west of Feuchi. Its artillery remained at the eastern end of the village. A force of two batteries of artillery is visible north-west of Tai pass."

ENORMOUS FORCES ENGAGED.

"The state of the enemy in front of the centre army remained unchanged until evening. On October 16th the enemy made six counter attacks against our column of the left army, but the attacks were entirely repulsed and heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy. At sunset five or six battalions of the enemy with two or three batteries again attacked the same column. The column is now repulsing them. The enemy's dead left on the field in the direction of our left army October 15th increases the total about four thousand. An official estimate at Imperial headquarters places the Russian force engaged in the battle of Shakhe river at 200,000 infantry and 26,000 cavalry with 950 guns."

RUSSIANS RETIRE.

Headquarters of Gen. Oku's left army in the field, October 16, 4 p. m. via Pientien Oct. 17.—The Russians retired last night along the eastern line, except on the extreme right where they made a strong stand at Lisilupo on the Chinese village near by. Early in the evening the Japanese advanced but were unable to drive the Russians out. The Japanese then attempted to cut through along the railroad in order to prevent a Russian retreat. This determined Russian stand was largely unexpected the rest of the line having withdrawn. At night the Russians attacked the Japanese line and after a hard fight lasting four hours were driven back with heavy losses.

JAPS VICTORIOUS.

St. Petersburg, October 17.—The official war was to-day lifted from the ghastly tragedy around Shakhe, but even the official account supplemented by numerous press despatches, leaves much uncertainty as to the situation. Out of fragmentary bits of information at hand it is possible only to conclude that the costly withdrawal and retreat from Liao Yang is being duplicated upon an even grander scale after more desperate fighting with heavier loss. Gen. Kuropatkin's story leaves the Russians still tensely holding the north bank of the Shakhe river but the general belief is that it is only a desperate finale of one of the greatest military dramas of history and the Russian army as a whole is retiring toward Mukden having suffered at conservative estimates a loss of 34,000.

SHOCKED AT THE TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER.

Tokio, October 17.—There is a strong appeal for peace in the appalling tragedy which is now under enactment in Manchuria. Both armies have fought furiously for a week and desperate fighting still continues. It is probable that the toll will be largely increased. The preliminary reports indicate that about 60,000 of both sides, the larger proportion of Russians have been either killed or wounded since the armies closed in combat. Even the Japanese to whom the great victory is of paramount interest seem to be shocked by the slaughter of their enemies. The Japanese people are receiving the news from their field of battle calmly and there can be heard no shouts proclaiming their victory. Few flags are displayed. A Japanese said to the Associated Press correspondent to-day: "We have won a sweeping and decisive victory which may prove to be the salvation of our country but we regret our own losses and the terrible slaughter which our forces have inflicted on the enemy. We regret still more the necessity which forced us to engage in this war."

SUPREME COURT EN BANC

The regular sittings of the Supreme court en banc for the Territories, opened at Regina on Tuesday, October 11. Those present were Chief Justice Sifton, Calgary; Judges Wetmore, Moosomin; Scott, Edmonton; Prendergast, Prince Albert; Newlands, Regina; and Harvey, McLeod.

The King vs. Cassimir, Toto. In this case, Judge Harvey, at Regina, on September 19, committed an Indian named Cassimir Toto to five years in the Manitoba penitentiary on a charge of wounding Christina McLeod, with an intent to do grievous bodily harm near Chaplin. Application to the trial judge to state a reserve case for consideration to the full court having been refused, application was now made on the grounds (1) whether the judge had power without a jury to determine the case in a summary way; (2) whether the judge had power to sentence for five years. The point raised was whether section 66 of the N. W. T. Act, giving powers to try without a jury without consent includes an offence of this magnitude which under section 241 of the Criminal Code, is punishable with life imprisonment. Mr. E. Rimmer, for the prisoner, urged that when section 66 of the North-West Territories Act was passed the old criminal law prior to the code was in force, and section 66 is intended to deal with offences which were misdemeanours and not a felony; the only felony included being larceny. The accused was charged with grave felony. Mr. Alex Ross, for the Crown Prosecutor, neither objected nor consented, and the appeal now stands for judgment.

Gass vs. McCammon. This action came from Moose Jaw, and was mentioned at the full court sittings last April. The defendant was tenant of the plaintiff for a year certain, expiring August 18, 1903. Defendant wrote to the plaintiff landlord on July 29 for a renewal of the lease for another year. Plaintiff replied a week later refusing, but offered to re-lease property to defendant on a monthly tenancy. The tenant remained in possession and paid rent for two months after August 18, without any further notice from either as to the tenancy. The landlord's letter written in reply to the tenant's letter of July 29 was sworn by the defendant never to have been received by him. The trial judge, Mr. Justice Newlands, held that the letter from the landlord to the tenant not having been received by the latter, and the landlord having accepted rent after the year, a new yearly tenancy arose by implication of the law. The landlord appealed on the grounds that the mailing of the letter was sufficient without proof of receipt of it, and other grounds. Mr. Willoughby, for the plaintiff, argued that the mailing of the letter in a tenancy matter was a sufficient way of communicating a notice about the tenancy to the tenant, and further that the course of dealing between the landlord and tenant made it the proper course in this case and that the notice conveyed by the landlord's letter was binding on the tenant. Mr. Ross, Johnstone and Ross, contended that as the landlord chose to send the letter through the mail without registration he must bear the consequences of the possible miscarriage of the letter through the mail; where, as if he had registered it, the letter proof would have existed as to whether it had been received or not.

The King vs. Cornell, E. H. Cornell and H. Herman Clement were charged at the last regular session of the court at Carlyle before Justice Wetmore, with jury, with having served George Olmstead with a summons for the purpose and intent to extort money from him. Clement was discharged, and Cornell was found guilty and convicted. Sentence was suspended, until several points of law, which were reserved, had been disposed of by full court. The chief points of the law were (1), whether a summons is a document containing an accusation within the meaning of the code; (2), whether the accusation contained in the document must be made with the in-

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18th, 1904.

A GOVERNMENT OWNED RAILWAY OR A RAILWAY OWNED GOVERNMENT

The speakers and newspapers of the opposition or Conservative party in the west are repeating parrot like the assertion of Mr. Borden that the choice of the electors on November 3 is between a government owned railway or a railway owned government. The electors are asked to believe that the accession of the Conservative party to power would mean the early construction of a government owned transcontinental railway.

The mighty need of the West is railway development and railway competition. This is a need recognized by every western elector; and the opposition party know that they cannot get a look in on the vote of the West on their opposition to the Government's railway policy unless they, too, offer in good or bad faith an alternative railway proposal. Mr. Borden recognized this in the session of 1903, when he proposed his centipede railway scheme. Had the elections come on then, as expected, the opposition party might in perfect fairness have claimed that they too offered a transcontinental—although not a government owned—railway. But the elections did not come on as expected. And at the session of 1904 Mr. Borden and his party dropped the definite proposal they had made and had endorsed, and substituted a statement of generalities, which meant nothing, and which bound the party to nothing, except to take office if the Government was defeated. Mr. Borden made several long and learned speeches on the transportation question; he found much fault with the Government's arrangement, and his followers moved many alleged amendments any one of which meant if agreed to by the House, the defeat of the Government and its proposals. As long as it was a matter of stating objections, Mr. Borden and his followers were talkative and definite. But when it came to stating as to their own position—that was another story. After months of talk Mr. Borden's final statement of what he and his party were prepared to do in regard to the railway question was stated in his motion of want of confidence, moved on the third reading of the G. T. P. bill. It does not matter what idea Mr. Borden or his followers may have conveyed in their multitudinous speeches, the words which bind them, if they are bound at all, are contained in the resolution of want of confidence, which reads as follows:

"The House is of opinion that instead of ratifying the proposed agreement it would be more in the public interest that the Dominion should assume the whole obligation necessary for extending across the continent the present Government system of railways, thereby completing a transcontinental railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, entirely owned by and under the control of the people of Canada."

This is Mr. Borden's statement of his present position on the railway question, and in no part of that statement is there a line, or a word binding himself or his party to the construction of a government owned transcontinental railway. He asks the House to condemn the Government proposals; which condemnation would place himself and party in power. Thus, while asking the House to believe that a government owned railway would be a better solution of the question than the Government's proposals, he is most careful not to commit himself to the view that this is the best solution or the one that his party would adopt if returned to power.

The evidence that Mr. Borden's resolution is not a promise of a government owned transcontinental railway is found in the words and actions of Hon. John Haggart, ex minister of railways, who is one of the chief supporters of Mr. Borden. Mr. Haggart had expressed himself frequently in the House as opposed to the principle of government ownership of railways; but he voted for Mr. Borden's motion, explaining as he did so that that motion did not commit himself or the party to government ownership—and it does not.

We return the Government to power and the West gets full railway development and effective competition as soon as money, energy and business ability can give it. We return the opposition to power and the arrangement for giving a railway at once is annulled, and we await the good pleasure of a party not committed to action of any kind and whose record for twenty years has been to uphold monopoly and to throttle competition. The opposition party does not offer the North-West a government owned railway, or a railway of any kind. It's only promise is to annul the present contract if given the opportunity. Last year Mr. Borden did make a definite promise: But that promise was not repeated this year. It was replaced by the resolution quoted above. If Mr. Borden meant a promise he has sufficient command of the English language to state that promise in good plain terms. This was what he did in the session of 1903, but it is what he did not do in the session of 1904.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

IN LLOYDMINSTER

Agricultural Show Bazaar and sale of work a pronounced success

Bulletin Special Dispatch.

Lloydminster, October 17.—The agricultural show, bazaar and sale of work held in the St. John's parish room on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 13th, 14th and 15th, was an undoubted success from every point of view. The large room was ranged with stalls round the walls for the sale of all kinds of winter goods while the central tables were filled with agricultural exhibits. These were of a very fine order, several Canadians remarking that they had seen no finer even in Toronto. No attempt had been made to subdivide the classes the idea being only to show what the colonists could grow. Turnips that measure 29½ inches, a single root of potatoes numbering 25 tubers would be worthy of a provincial show. Bachelors competed against housewives in breadmaking and did exceedingly well. The butter showed the old country training and would bear inspection any where. The children were not forgotten and good maps of Canada, rag dolls and drawings were the results of their efforts. In the evenings sketch drawing from life, and shooting offered considerable amusement. On Saturday evening a high class concert filled the building again and brought the whole affair to a very satisfactory close with a total of receipts amounting to $329.00.

On Sunday these exhibits were used for donating the church for the harvest festival services which were of a very hearty character. A large congregation was present at both morning and evening services. The singing was hearty and every one went home Sunday night after singing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow" satisfied that if our harvest could not be measured by the thousands of acres at any rate we had all the evidence we needed of what the land can and will produce.

Patterson vs. Lane. This was an appeal from the judgment of Chief Justice Sifton at Calgary on May 25 last. Plaintiff, J. D. Patterson, sought a judgment of the court, declaring that he, and not George Lane is the owner of a certain written document, in the nature of a half-breed script certificate issued by the Government of Canada through the half-breed commissioners, to Justine Rousselle, a half-breed, in November, 1900. P. J. Nolan purchased the script from Justine Rousselle at Lacombe. About December 11 following, Nolan pledged it to T. S. G. Lee as security for a loan of $250, and received it in August of the following year. On March 25, 1901, Nolan received from Lane $200 and gave him a receipt stating that the money had to be applied on purchase of half interest in two parcels of Dominion land script; returns to be made at the expiration of thirty days from that date, and Mr. Lane to receive half of the proceeds of sale of same. At the trial Nolan swore that he sold the defendant a one half interest in the Justine Rousselle script, but neither he nor the defendant on cross examination could remember whether the half-breed's name was mentioned either then or at any time before the dealings between Nolan and the plaintiff previously. In regard to the purchase of land script on July 2, received from plaintiff $150 and give Patterson a receipt for that amount in trust, to

The balance to be paid on location of said script, and execution of transfer to the said J. D. Patterson; and I also agree and undertake to locate the Charles Thomas Anderson and script already secured without further expense to the said J. D. Patterson. The balance referred to was $100. Nolan subsequently went to plaintiff, stated that he had secured the script referred to, and that the half-breed's name was Justine Rousselle. Nolan tendered him the balance of $100 and asked for the script. Nolan refused to put up the script, and declared that it was his own. Later the defendant gave Nolan two sums amounting to $700, alleging that the money was paid in the purchase of the remaining one-half interest in the script in question. On April 23, 1903 Justine Rousselle executed a transfer to the defendant of certain lands, and later on the same day the half-breed, at the Dominion Lands Office in Calgary, signed an application to locate her scrip upon the lands referred to in the transfer. The script certificate was handed to Mr. Sutherland, the agent of the Department of the Interior. Mr. Sutherland forwarded the script certificate to Ottawa to the head office of his department. The script note was not returned from Ottawa, although the lands in question had been reserved under the application. The plaintiff on February 13, 1904, brought this action against the defendant Lane, and asks for a declaration judgment, declaring that he, plaintiff, is the true owner of said certificate in question. The Chief Justice dismissed the action with costs. From this judgment the plaintiff now appeals. After argument, Mr. C. A. Stuart applied to amend the statement of claim to conform with the statement of facts alleged in the statement of claim. Mr. Jas. Muir, K.C. opposed. Judgment was reserved, both on the application to amend, and on the merits of the case.

In the course of his remarks he said: "Interested Britishers are endeavoring under the guise of benefactors of the Congo natives, to open the question of sovereignty over these regions by calling a conference of the powers, at which it is hoped by the Britishers, England may establish the contention that Belgium is incompetent to maintain an effective government in the Congo."

EDMONTON RIFLE ASSOCIATION

At the regular practice on Saturday afternoon there was the usual good turnout, and some very fair shooting was done, until sunset, when the light failed so rapidly as to spoil the scores of those who shot in the second and third squads at the 600 yards.

As advantage must be taken of the earlier light, practice will begin next Saturday at 1:30 p.m., when it is hoped that the celebrated "Hospital Match" may be pulled off. It is much to be regretted that the association is losing one of its best marksmen in the person of Mr. W. L. Gibbard, who is leaving this week for Salmon Arm, B.C., where he purposes making his future home. The officers and members of the association tender him their best wishes for his future prosperity and success, as a marksman, and heartily commend him to the brethren of the rifle in British Columbia. He carries with him several trophies and cash prizes won at the recent matches of the Edmonton and Strathcona Associations, and as a member of the team entered by the Edmonton Association in the civilian series of the military rifle league.

The following were the best scores of the day.

W. L. Gibbard	200 500 600 tie
S. S. Brown	27 28 27-82
Geo. A. Reid	29 30 16-72
T. A. Osborne	23 23 23-69
G. H. Graydon	16 20 22-58
P. W. Fisher	25 19 14-58
T. McWhinney	23 15 19-57

Several other members who were doing fair work, did not complete the three ranges.

A few members met at the ranges last Wednesday afternoon, but found the wind fresh and gusty, making high scoring difficult.

The following scores were put on—

W. S. Weeks	200 500 500 tie
T. McWhinney	25 20 21-66
P. W. Fisher	22 19 25-66
T. A. Osborne	28 27 11-66
W. L. Gibbard	26 16 22-64

A Government Owned Railway Etc.

found to be desirable the present bargain provides for that operation of the transcontinental throughout its whole length of three thousand miles.

The real choice is between effective competition with the alternative of government ownership whenever the people so desire, and a continuation of C. P. R. monopoly as upheld for twenty years by the party of the opposition.

As to a railway owned government, Mr. Borden must have had in mind the government nominally by his party, but actually by the C. P. R., which cursed this Northwest country for so many years. The head and front of the offending of the present government in securing further railway development for the Northwest is that it has failed to do what it has promised to do. When the bill to aid the Crows' Nest Pass branch of the C. P. R. to the amount of $11,000 per mile in cash was going through parliament, not a word of opposition was heard. But when the Government proposes to introduce the Grand Trunk Pacific into the Northwest, to give the country and people that competition without which they cannot succeed, every resource of parliamentary strategy is exhausted during two long sessions in opposition to the proposal, and when all other opposition fails—and no until then, the opposition party throws out a hint towards government ownership in the hope that the people of the North-West will accept the hint as a promise, while to the people of the east it can be clearly demonstrated that no such promise has been made. We had a railway owned government in Canada from 1830 until 1896; and if the opposition party attains power on Nov. 3, we will have it again. That party, not fought the battles of monopoly to bitterly during these last two sessions of parliament in order to free the West from monopoly. They have been doing the bidding of the railway which owned them during sixteen long lean years. And if they come to power on November 3—an only if they come to power, will we have a railway owned government.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting no 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide woodlots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made in the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent of the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for someone to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by evidence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of 2, 3, or 4, must substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, and have besides 80 acres sub-tenanted.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or homestead inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the railway belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior. N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.
